LAWS FOR THE FISHERMEN

Officers of the provincial department of fisheries, with the assistance of the Royal North West Mounted Police, will direct their endeavors in the future to do better enforcement of the laws regulating angling in Alberta, than in former years.

J. D. Wilson, provincial inspector of fisheries, who made the foregoing announcement in Edmonton a few days ago, and said that no license is required by settlers and other residents angling for jackfish, pickerel, perch, gold eyes and other coarse fish, adding:

"I am sure that the following extracts from the fishery regulations, which apply to angling, will meet with the approval of all true sportsmen, as well as by all settlers who have any regard and set any value on the natural resources of Alberta:

"The use of spears, lights, firearms, dynamite or other explosive material in killing fish is prohibited.

"The use of bare unbailed hooks or grapples is prohibited.

"No rivers or creeks shall be obstructed by any kind of a dam or trap for the purpose of killing fish.

"Section 31 (a) Angling or trolling in waters frequented by trout, grayling or Rocky Mountain white fish is prohibited, except under permit.

"(b) Every British subject resident in the province for which it is issued shall be eligible for an angling and trolling permit. The annual fee for such permit shall be $1.

"(c) Every non-resident shall be eligible for an angling and trolling permit, the fee on which shall be one dollar for a single day, or $5 for a season.

"(d) In waters not frequented by trout grayling or Rocky Mountain whitefish, angling or trolling may be carried on by resident British subjects without a permit.

"Section 32 (a) In the Red Deer river and its tributaries, and the North Saskatchewan river and its tributaries, no one shall fish for, catch or kill any trout, grayling or Rocky Mountain whitefish from September in each year to April following, both days exclusive.

"Section 34 (a) No one shall in one day catch or retain more than twenty-five cutthroat trout, rainbow trout or Rocky Mountain whitefish, or of the different species named, than will in the aggregate amount to more than twenty-five fish.

"No one shall catch and retain more than 10 lake trout in one day.

"(e) No one shall in one day, by angling or trolling catch or retain more than 25 jackfish, pickerel (dore), or of either of these species than will amount in the aggregate to 25."

Mr. Wilson said also that the law requiring a permit and fees for angling in waters frequented by trout, grayling or Rocky Mountain whitefish is more particularly with reference to the upper waters of the Saskatchewan, Pembina, McLeod and Athabasca rivers and their tributaries. Trout are often found in the vicinity of Edmonton.

Fire at Lacombe

Lacombe, Alta., June 9.—Fire here, this morning, destroyed the Russell block causing damage estimated at $10,000.

Watt & Hay, clothing store, most of stock saved; Mrs. Sherman, rooming house, contents destroyed; Monarch pool room, Creighen, contents destroyed.

The blaze had its origin in a bedroom of the rooming house on the upper floor of the block. The flames were noticed first about 10:40 o'clock, and the fire department, arriving promptly prevented the spread of the blaze to the building adjacent, which included a candy kitchen. Goods were hastily removed to the street from these as well as from the burning structure.

Highest Building

In answer to an enquiry, we may state that the highest building in the world is the Woolworth building in New York City.

The cost of the building complete was $515,000,000. The following are a few figures of the materials which entered into the construction: 24,000 tons of steel, 17,200,000 bricks, 35,000 tons of terra cotta, besides countless cubic yards of sand and broken stone, concrete, the shell and partitions of the building. There are 87 miles of electric wiring, 24 miles of marble trim and slate base, and 43 miles of plumbing pipe. Enough glass was used for the 3,000 exterior windows to cover one and a half acres. The electric lights used total 80,000.

The total area is no less than forty acres. The actual height of the building from the level street is 780 feet, from bedrock 910 feet. There are 55 stories, and the total weight of the building is 200,000,000 tons.

When the new Equitable building, now under way, is erected in New York, it will beat the Woolworth building by 200 feet and 56 feet.

HARDSHIPS ON H. B. RAILROAD

Ottawa, June 4.—The Evening Citizen says: "There seems to be a great deal of complaint about the way some of the contractors on the Hudson's Bay railway, from LePas to Fort Nelson, have been treating men employed on construction work. Several men who have been working up there returned to the city yesterday with distressing tales of their experiences in the north. One of them is well known in local labor circles and in telling the story to a Citizen reporter, asked that his name be withheld for the present. He gave the names of others now in Ottawa who can vouch for the truth of what he says.

"The men up there are so badly treated that I feel I should make public what I saw and was told in going over the line. On February 23rd a man was blown up by a blast at camp 18. He was taken to the hospital, but the doctor was away and there was no one to care for him except a veterinary, who was called in. The man lived four days and died before the doctor arrived. He was buried without a word of prayer. The remains were placed in a rough box and put in the ground.

"The men are charged one dollar a month for doctor's fees and if they only work one day they have to pay the dollar. There was only one doctor from Le Pas to Camp 30, a distance of 300 miles, or from Le Pas to Kettle Rapids, and sometimes there were over 1,000 men on the line. There are no phones, and the mail service in the winter was almost unsatisfactory.

PHILIP NEIS, Agt., MIRROR

The men have a certain amount taken out of their wages each month for the mail service, and yet all the service they got was mail sent by cache teams. The mail would remain in a cache a week or a month before being sent on. Sometimes it took months to reach the men at the end of construction and often it did not reach them at all. Men were hired in Winnipeg and they went up there to work without having clothes for such cold weather. They were to be paid $20 or $30 a month, and that always meant a lower price. I have seen men leave the end of steel to camp in 30 below zero with only one pair of socks, ordinary clothes and a hat such as would be worn here in the fall. I saw a man lying in camp for five or six weeks with both feet frozen and no doctor to look after him. There were similar cases.

"The men were charged 75 cents per day for taking their baggage in on the cache teams. Even if it was only a small bag of clothes, or no baggage at all, he was charged the same.

"The small sub-contractors were treated very badly. They were given to understand that they would have a contract per yardage for excavation: 12 feet deep, which would mean four feet of frozen earth to take out and then eight feet of soft earth. When they got on the job they found it was only about six feet deep, so that they had four feet of frozen ground and only two feet of soft earth to take out.

"One man told me that he had worked four months, had lost no time and yet the charges against him amounted to more than his wages. They would be charged 15 cents for a plug of tobacco, 85 cents for a five cent bag of salt, 18 cents for a pound of sugar, 45 cents a pound for bacon, $10 a bag for flour, 60 cents per pound for "blue nose" butter, 25 cents a tin for corn, butter, etc.

"The Citizen's informant showed a typewritten copy of an order to a cache keeper, telling him that A. Howdick could not get his meals until he had a credit coming to him of $30 or more. Then followed this extract from a general order:

"No man going south is to be supplied with anything, not even his meals, until he has a credit coming to him of at least $30. If this letter is disregarded, the cache keeper furnishing same will be held responsible."

"This man went in, thinking he was to get $30 a month and after he got to the work found he was only to get $20. He started home and could not get any meals. He started to walk back to the end of steel, but the caches along the line would not give him anything to eat, and he had to return to the one where he was working."

Learned men tell us that in Latin the word "editor" means something "to eat" in this country its meaning is at together different. It means to get with around like blazes to get so nothing to eat.

POULTRY SUGGESTIONS

A few suggestions given by the Poultry Division, Experiment Farm, Ottawa.

Do not feed too soon. When the chick is hatched it has a sufficient supply of nourishment in the yolk of the egg to last it for several days. What the chick requires for the first few days is not food but warmth and rest.

A little sand or grit first.
When the chicks are removed from their brooding quarters there should be some coarse sand or fine chick grit scattered where they can have free access to it. They should then be left until they show positive signs of hunger which would be between the 2nd and third day after hatching. They may then be given some bread crumbs that have been very slightly moistened with milk; this may be scattered on clean sand or grit. If being brooded by a hen she will see that no food is allowed to lie around, but if in a brooder that part of the food that the chicks do not pick up in a few minutes should be removed as nothing in feeding causes so much trouble as leaving food of that nature around until it is sour.

Feed for the first 10 or 12 days. The following daily ration of five feeds given about two and a half hours apart and continue from the time the chicks are two or three days out of the shell until 10 or 12 days of age may be altered or adopted to suit conditions.
First feed:—Dry bread crumbs slightly moistened with milk.
Second feed:—Finely cracked mixed grains or commercial chick feed. Third feed:—Red-died oats. Fourth feed:—Dry bread crumbs moistened with milk. Fifth feed:—Finely mixed cracked grains.

In addition to the above give the chicks daily a little green food such as grass, lettuce, sprouted oats, etc. Do not have the moistened bread dry but in a crumbly state and during this period let the chicks onto fresh soil or grass every day if possible.

Feed after 10 or 12 days.
After the chicks are ten days to two weeks old, coarser foods may be allowed. The infertile eggs may be hatched and mixed with the mash food and the brood and milk discontinued.
Hoppers in which is put cracked grains and dry mash or rolled oats may be placed where the chicks can have free access to them. As soon as they become accustomed to the hoppers all hand feeding except the mash may be discontinued. If the chicks are on range it will be found that after a time they get careless about coming when called, at which time the mash may be dropped and dependence placed entirely on the hopper feeding.

Place grit and water, also a dish of sour milk if possible where the chicks will have free access to them. Nothing provides animal food in better form than does milk, the chicks like it and thrive on it.

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE SHOT TO DEATH

The station house at Rosyth, a short distance east of Hard-isty, was broken into recently, and, acting upon advice of the Mounted Police, J. B. Chivas, a justice of the peace, undertook to arrest three men whom he had seen enter the restaurant at Anisk early Saturday evening. Chivas was accompanied by P. Levesque and J. Lee, who had been sworn in as special constables. They followed the suspects into the restaurant and one of the latter made his exit by a rear door. The other two faced Chivas and asked what the trouble was. They were ordered to throw up their hands and one did so. The other threw up his right hand but with the left fired the shot that killed Chivas and both bolted through the rear door into the darkness and the bush. The constables gave chase but, being unarmed, were of little use and soon lost sight of the men.

Chivas died at his home about two hours afterwards. He was a well known old-timer and highly respected by the people throughout the neighborhood.
His funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon of last week, the Rev. John Murdoch, of Hard-isty, conducting the services, which were held in the open air and attended by over two hundred people. The wife of the deceased has been prostrated with grief.

The surrounded country has been thoroughly scoured by members of the Mounted Police, under the direction of Inspector Jennings, as well as by other armed men, but no definite clue has been secured. About twenty holes have been arrested and five of them were sentenced to short terms at Fort Saskatchewan, being taken thither by Constable Wilson, of Daysland. Two others were allowed their liberty on suspended sentence and the re-
